

Hello Fellow Square and Round Dancers!

Square and round dancing are at a turning point—and we believe the future can be joyful, social, and full of expansive energy. That's why we've launched a new 501 (c) (3) educational nonprofit dedicated to rebuilding square and round dancing, growing vibrant clubs, and welcoming a new generation of dancers onto the floor.

Our vision is simple: more dancers • more clubs • more joy

Our Podcast starts in February! We have a lineup of interviews with progressive rock star cuers and callers, successful clubs, and others sharing interesting facts about square and round dancing, what we need to grow, and why you should learn to dance!

In February, we are launching our national campaign to introduce new people to modern square and round dance using square dance interview videos and other graphics. In April, we will be filming a series of interviews with round dancers and including them in our national campaign.

On the site <https://squaredancerevival.org/>, you'll find:
